

VOTE FOR SENATOR X. P. WILFLEY

A 100 PER CENT DEMOCRAT

Our Long Range Guns

WHERE HOGS DRINK OUT OF BEER BOTTLES

With the Colors, July 28, 1918. Editor, The Herald:

I will take pleasure in writing you a few lines as this is the first spare time since I've been here. We landed here last Thursday morning at 2:30 and at daylight marched to the camp. We were examined again and were placed in our tents and at 10 o'clock we went out to drill a little, and that evening they gave us some instructions and rules to abide by, and Friday morning we went to drilling right.

Maybe you think it didn't go hard with us when the temperature down here is 110 on an average, and the water that we get is boiled and filtered at Waco, Tex., which is three miles from here, and by the time we get it, it is very warm. It is very hard to keep ice for the kitchen, much less the comfort of us rough necks. We heard this morning that we fellows from Pemiscot county would be shipped from here in about six weeks, and that sounds good, for we fellows want to get started after Fritz.

This is a dull place, as we are in quarantine for 16 days, and there is no shade, no Y. M. C. A., no K. C. or like out here, so you see it is very hard for us fellows.

We went down yesterday morning and received our third shot in the arm, and 40 men of our company are mighty sick fellows, and those who were not sick were sore and stiff.

This morning I was assigned to K. P. duty, that means kitchen police—that is to peel spuds—and it is some sport, to; but they feed the soldiers good. We have eggs, hash, beef, potatoes, coffee, butter and light bread.

But with all this, it is not like dear old Hayti, where you can pull the bell cords over old "Beck" and hang around "uncle" Butch's ice cream parlor and Jim Stanley's garage. But I guess I had just as well like it—every body out here tells us we will.

I will tell you something about this place: The more rivers there are, the less water there is, and the farther you look the less you see; and the more cows you have the less milk you get, and the hogs drink out of beer bottles.

Well, I must close, as it is time for the taps to sound.

From a soldier boy, not a farmer boy.

Cat Turned the Trick.
Psychology is playing a more and more important part in shop work. One Cincinnati manufacturer, who employed about twenty girls in a certain department, found that they quickly grew discontented and left him at the end of a week or two, complaining of the monotony of their tasks. The manufacturer laid the facts before a noted psychologist, who advised him to get a cat, put it in the room with the girls, and await results. It worked well.

—The Bootlegger's Request.
Asked if he had anything to say before receiving sentence to the county jail on his conviction as a bootlegger, a Vernon county offender told the judge he'd like to be allowed to collect before going behind the bars the $3 due him from the sale of the whisky on which the prosecution was based.—Kansas City Times.

—Making It Work Both Ways.
Mr. Slowpay—"I shall bring you back those dark trousers to be resented. Mr. Murphy. You know, I sit a good deal." Mr. Murphy (taller)—"All right, and if you'll bring back the bill I sent you six months ago I'll be pleased to receipt that also. You know, I have stood a good deal."

Testing Pineapples.
The ripeness of a pineapple may be tested by pulling its leaves. If they do not pluck readily the pineapple is not ready to be used.
